Hampford Research Inc purchases BarGuard™ line of preservatives from RML inc.
Hampford Research Inc.

Date: January 12, 2017

Hampford Research Inc. (HRI), a specialty chemicals manufacturer located in Stratford CT has purchased all rights to the BarGuard™ line of preservatives from RML Inc, Sandy Hook, CT.

Stratford, CT, USA, January 12, 201 – Hampford Research Inc, a manufacturer of specialty chemicals serving the electronics, printing, coatings and personal care industries, and RML Inc. a supplier of high-quality, innovative preservative systems to the cosmetic and personal care industries, have agreed to the acquisition of the BarGuard™ line by HRI.

This agreement transfers sales, marketing and distribution rights of the BarGuard™ line, including BarGuard™ CP exclusively to Hampford Research. BarGuard™ CP is a unique, environmentally friendly alternative to paraben based preservatives commonly used in make up, creams and lotions. Hampford Research has been and will continue to be the exclusive manufacturer of BarGuard™ products.

Mike Wyrostek, Director of Sales and Marketing at Hampford Research, commented: “This is a natural progression of our long standing relationship between HRI and RML. The BarGuard™ name is well known and respected within the personal care industry, and we are excited about the new opportunities this represents to better serve our existing customer base, as well as expand the line into new markets”.
